TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE CREATES EXCITEMENT

Woman Breaks up a Beer Picnic with Rifle and Stone.

She accepted a glass of beer, intending to use it as evidence against the party.

One of the men said she would have to drink the beer. She answered by picking up a stone and striking him over the head with it. The man gripped with her and in the struggle his face was scratched and his clothing torn.

Mrs. McGowan then procured a rifle and chased one of the party into the Missouri river, firing at him, but missing. Finally she saw the man swim ashore and apologize. His companions fled.

ABOLISH THE SALOON, SAYS WHOLESALER

Beer Bottler Says There is No Excuse for Its Existence.

Boston, June 9.—To abolish the evil results of the saloon, a law should be made compelling a man to buy a 16-cent meal with every drink. So said Dr. Edward C. Dickinson, of Boston, at a sectional meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections. He believes people should eat more while they drink.

George B. Hugo, head of a wholesale beer bottling company, said:

"The saloon as an institution causes 10 per cent. of the drunkenness. It ought to be abolished. There is no reason for its existence, and no need of it in a community. After the man put out of business for a while it would never be missed."

Do Not Put Dope Into Advertising

There are too many advertisements that are dopey. They are constructed on the door-plate plan instead of upon the magnetic.

They just give a surface sight, but do not penetrate the reader's consciousness of need. They show in ink but they do not appeal. These kinds of advertisements are the advertiser's worst enemy. They show the advertiser is in something he does not recognize the force of. It isn't what you want to sell but what the consumer wants to buy that makes up the price.

The successful business man talks trade just as an evangelist talks of turning to the better life—he puts his heart in it—what he says makes up the price. The advertiser should be well stated and make up the price. The advertiser should be well stated and make up the price.

Death Claims

Carrie Nation

PICTURESQUE CAREER ENDS IN A SANITARIUM.

NOTED AS SALOON SMASHER

First Husband's Tippling Habits Aroused Intense Aversion to Saloons—Her First Smashing at Wichita.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 9.—Carrie Nation, the Kansas saloon smasher, died here tonight.

Knew End Was Near.

The physician at the sanitarium told Mrs. Nation several days ago that the end was near. She said nothing, but smiled. She became unconscious at noon today and died hours later, but only the doctor and a nurse were at her bedside when she died.

Worried Over Lawsuits.

Worry over lawsuits which she brought against a lecture bureau for failure to pay for services is said to have caused her breakdown.

Reconciled to Cigarettes.

The last months of Mrs. Nation's life were in marked contrast with her former activity. Once she saw a physician at the sanitarium smoking a cigarette. She made no objection, saying merely that she had done what she could to "eradicate the evil."

Body to Be Sent to Kansas City.

The body will be sent to Kansas City, where a nephew lives. Funeral services will be held there, probably on Sunday.

Paresis Caused Death.

Paresis was the cause of death. For several months Mrs. Nation had suffered from nervous disorders, and January 22 she entered the sanitarium in which she died.

Married Man Who Drank.

Carrie Moore was born in Kentucky in 1846. In early life she married a man addicted to intoxicants. This created in her an intense aversion to saloons. When she was a young woman she devoted her life to the suppression of barrooms.

Present Husband a Prohibitionist.

Later she removed to Kansas and married David Nation, who sympathized with her. After considerable peaceful labor to stop drinking of alcoholic beverages, she decided to become militant.

Her First Saloon Smashing.

Mrs. Nation's first saloon smashing was done in the barroom of the Carrie hotel at Wichita on December 27, 1900. She remained in jail several days as a result. January 31, 1901, armed with a hatchet, she carried out a hatchet, she made another attack in Wichita. This time she smashed two saloons.

Was Assaulted at Enterprise.

In the next three months Mrs. Nation surprised liquor sellers in various Kansas towns. She was arrested and jailed several times. She was assaulted at Enterprise, Kan.

Aroused Kansas on Liquor Issue.

Aroused by the acts of the dauntless woman, the people of Kansas began to demand the prohibition of saloons. Smashing parties were organized all over the state. As a result of the agitation, the legislature strengthened the prohibition law.

Became an Editor.

After her activities in Kansas, Mrs. Nation became an editor of a paper called the Smasher's Mail. She had little smashing outside of Kansas.

Wanted Home for Drunkard's Wives.

While lecturing in New York city she created excitement by appearing at a horse show in Madison Square Garden and demanding that the owners of the horses be fined for drinking money for a home for drunkards' wives, founded by her in Kansas City, Kan.

Talked in Saloons.

Mrs. Nation made herself conspicuous in many cities by entering saloons and resorts and delivering talks on the evils of drinking.

The Year Book Out.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Midtown, June 9.—The 1911 Oleson year book at Wesleyan, made up by the students, is out. The volume, which is the 53d, maintains the high standard set by previous Wesleyan year books. The book is dedicated to Prof. George Matthew Dutcher, Ph. D., of the history department. The feature of the publication is a record of all the athletic contests in which Wesleyan has figured, covering 13 pages. The history of football at Wesleyan is traced from the time when Rugby football was introduced at the college in 1881 down to the present day. It is shown that previous to 1881 no team outside the Intercollegiate league had defeated Wesleyan. Among the football victories of Wesleyan in the earlier days were those over Williams 21-0 in 1882, Harvard 15-0 in 1884, Pennsylvania 25-18 in 1885, Trinity 60-0 in 1886 and Amherst 47-0 in 1886. Starting with the first game of baseball for Wesleyan and Yale in 1885, when Yale won 32-15, the scores of all games played by Wesleyan teams are recorded. From the beginning of Wesleyan baseball in 1881 the scores of games down to the present show that Wesleyan has been represented by a team far above the average in that sport.
